octave[®]

OCTAVE ULTRASONIC FOR COMMERCIAL & INDUSTRIAL (C&I)

Powered by The Sound of Science[®]

Octave offers a stunning measurement flow range that captures superior low flow and leak detection when compared to other mechanical and solid-state C&I meters. The newest Octave High Flow series provides even greater high-end flows — ideal for custody transfers or other heavy constant flows.

THE ALLEGRO AMI PRODUCT FAMILY

We understand that when you're a hammer everything looks like a nail. Forcing a single AMI technology solution for every utility application isn't always effective. That's why we've developed a toolbox full of choices in communication tech. Licensed AMI (great for densely populated areas), Cellular (ideal for remote areas or the entire city), IoT (a LoRa-based smart choice for smart cities), and Smart Grid (piggyback on Landis & Gyr electric smart grid without any additional infrastructure).

harmony[®]encore[™]

HARMONY ENCORE MDM SOFTWARE

We created Harmony Encore with humans in mind. We've completely reenvisioned the software experience to be more intuitive, natural, with key information a single click away. Harmony Encore makes sense of consumption information, empowers customer service, and simplifies meter operations. Utilities across America helped Master Meter design Harmony Encore to ensure a stunning user experience they'll look forward to using every day.

MY WATER ADVISOR SOFTWARE

Because Everyone is A Water Manager[™]

This easy-to-navigate tool helps water users across America better understand their consumption habits, promptly address leaks, and develop a monthly water budget to end month-end billing surprises. We believe water stewardship, water sustainability, and conservation begin with each individual user — our My Water Advisor customer portal makes it possible.
